Use of cookies and similar technologies

Please note that we use cookies on the website to automate and improve the customer experience. Cookies are files that store information on your hard drive or browser so that the website can recognise that you have visited it before. You can, should you choose, disable the cookies from your browser and delete all cookies currently stored on your computer. Please consult the HELP menu of your browser to learn how to disable or delete cookies. Deleting cookies from your privacy setting may prevent you from taking full advantage of some features on the website.

The cookies used on our websites have been categorised based on the guidelines found in the ICC UK Cookie Guide. We use the following categories on our websites and other online services:

Category 1: Strictly necessary cookies

These cookies are essential to enable you to browse around our websites and use their features. Without these cookies, services like shopping baskets and e-billing cannot be provided.

Category 2: Performance cookies

These cookies collect information about how you use our websites - for instance, which pages you go to most. This data may be used to help optimise our websites and make it easier for you to navigate. These cookies are also used to let affiliates know if you came to one of our websites from an affiliate and if your visit resulted in the use or purchase of a product or service from us, including details of the product or service purchased. These cookies don't collect information that identifies you. All information these cookies collect is aggregated and therefore anonymous.

Category 3: Functionality cookies

These cookies allow our websites to remember choices you make while browsing. For instance, we may store your geographic location in a cookie to ensure that we show you our website localised for your area. We may also remember preferences such as text size, fonts and other customisable site elements. They may also be used to keep track of what featured products or videos have been viewed to avoid repetition. The information these cookies collect will not personally identify you, and they cannot track your browsing activity on non-AlloyGator websites.
